HEALTHY BUILDING COMMITMENT (HBC)

Take the pledge—commit to creating a healthier building today!

By committing to these five principles, you can make your workspace (whether at home or in the office) a more sustainable, comfortable, and healthier environment as a part of the Healthy Building Commitment!

The Healthy Building Commitment is an affordable entry point that can help guide participants through best practices, individualized suggestions, and resources to improve occupant health.

THE FIVE HEALTHY BUILDING PRINCIPLES

- Improve Indoor Air Quality – to minimize sick days and improve productivity and performance
- Use Green Cleaning Practices – to improve indoor air quality and protect the health of occupants including janitorial staff
- Increase Access to Green Space (Indoor or Outdoor) – to improve staff morale, mental health and wellbeing, and increase worker productivity
- Promote Physical Activity – to reduce long-term healthcare costs for you and your company
- Water Quality Testing and Monitoring – to protect occupant health by ensuring drinking water is safe

DID YOU KNOW?

- Indoor Air Quality can be 2–5 times worse than outdoor air quality?
- 50% of illnesses affecting workforces are related to work environment conditions?
- Employees that are satisfied with their work environment are 16% more productive, 18% more likely to stay in their job, and 30% more attracted to their company over competitors?

The Healthy Building Commitment (HBC) was designed by USGBC–LA to provide building owners, tenants, and individuals with an accessible and affordable pathway to provide healthy, resilient space to live, work, and play.

It is the perfect place for anyone looking to provide healthy spaces for their employees, tenants, family members, and ultimately themselves. USGBC–LA wants to empower program participants to make informed, healthy building decisions. Signing the commitment gives you the autonomy to make the decisions on how you achieve your goals, and we provide guidance throughout your journey.

ENROLL YOUR CORPORATE OFFICE!

ENROLL YOUR HOME OFFICE!